

Does ARUser Patch information exist in...

JoseAntonio 27 posts since

Aug 20, 2007

Hi All,

I've been searching information about ARUser patch in the windows registry, but I've not found it. Do you know if it exists?

Thanks.

Jose Antonio.

ginol 253 posts since

Feb 26, 2008 1. Re: Does ARUser Patch information exist in Windows Registry? Nov 20, 2008 6:33 AM

Hi,

try to have a look in the registry path Windows->Current Version->Uninstall. There is an entry with several information related to ARUser.

I hope that it helps.

Regards

JoseAntonio 27 posts since

Aug 20, 2007 2. Re: Does ARUser Patch information exist in Windows Registry? Nov 20, 2008 9:14 AM

 in response to: ginol

Thanks, there is a lot of data except patch.

Regards.

Jose Antonio

Does ARUser Patch information exist in...

appajee 286 posts since

May 29, 2007 3. Re: Does ARUser Patch information exist in Windows Registry? Nov 22, 2008 8:15 PM

in response to: JoseAntonio

Any specific reason you're looking for this info in registry? Do you need to get this via programmatic means?? Otherwise, I assume you would have simply looked at User Tool ==> Help ==> About dialog Or aruser.exe version information via Windows Explorer ==> Select aruser.exe, right click on it ==> Properties context menu ==> Version tab. If you need to get this info programmatically without these manual actions, then may be you can use Win32 APIs to look at resource information on aruser.exe.

Appajee

JoseAntonio 27 posts since

Aug 20, 2007 4. Re: Does ARUser Patch information exist in Windows Registry? Nov 24, 2008 2:46 AM

in response to: appajee

Hi,

We need to test what versions we have installed in every PC. There's a lot of PCs in the organization so we want to do it with an external application. I have to research about the possibility of using Win32 API.

Thanks and regards,

Jose Antonio.