

Allow user to change the result list location in the mid-tier

In the remedy client tool, the user is able to adjust the pane location of the result list and the detail information. We would like the mid-tier to have the same functionality as the client tool since the most of computers have the wider screen.