

Different Status Listing by Page Layout

---

The new Page Layout ability in Remedyforce should also include the option to differentiate what status are visible the certain page layouts as well. Different departments within a company's Remedyforce instance may use different statuses based on their own established workflow. The current status listing can get quite large with this in mind as it can be littered many useless statuses that one department will use but the others do not use.