

option to configure discovery schedule after completion of earlier schedule

While creating schedule there should be option of selecting earlier schedule after which current schedule will start.

We cannot know when particular schedule will complete due which it becomes very difficult to predict exact start time to configure for next schedule.

This feature will be useful in case of daily discoveries in mid to large environments.