

RPM - BSA : The ability to include whether the BSA snapshot job determined that there were changes made to the configuration or not

- The ability to include whether the BSA snapshot job determined that there were changes made to the configuration or not.
 - The current implementation does not provide any indication whether there configuration changes so in a drift detection scenario the results of the snapshot cannot be used to determine whether to stop or continue the request execution.