

Smart IT - Add custom fields as new columns to console

Smart IT has the ability to add new fields to the forms, but there is currently no way to make new fields available as columns. In addition to various custom fields, there are several OOB fields that are useful, but missing from the console. NextSLADueDate is a great example, as we use SLAs in our organization, and typically prioritize the Incidents accordingly.